NUMBER 13. MARCH 31, 1911, NORWAY, MAINE. VOLUME XLII.

Universalist Men's Supper.
The men of the Men's Bible Class of the Universalist church served their annual supper at Concert Hall, Tuesday evening. That the supper was an excellent one goes without saying. A fine variety of meats, pie, cakes and fruit were served and an exceedingly large crowd was present who partook of the bounties set before them in a manner that spoke for itself as to the quality of the "good things".

After the supper an entertainment was given which was a "Mock Trial" and was known as the Great Umbrella Case. The court was called to order by the sheriff, Alton Whitehead. The jury was called by the clerk of the court, Homer Luck. The prosecuting attorney, Otto Schaefer, foreman, Emil O. Hermes, Stephen Cummings, Frank Beck, W. W. Hills, Everett F. Bicknell, George Winslow, Carroll Bartlett, Hugh Bethel, George L. Curtis, F. E. DeCoster and Philip Young. The presiding attorney, Walter Chandler, laid the case before the jury which was a larceny case and the prisoner, Charles F. Ridlon was charged with stealing an umbrella.

The witnesses for the prosecutors were Walter A. Ward, William Leavitt, Aaron Yeaton and A. C. Hobbs. The counsel for the defense, Stuart Goodwin and the witnesses were Kook Bickford, Harold Anderson, George Leavitt, Shirley Milliken and Charles Merrill. The case after being thoroughly heard was given to the jury which returned the verdict of not guilty and the judge, Harry Luck, pronounced him a free man.

The original owner of the umbrella was Charles James Augustus Southgate, Win. Wanner. The trial was interesting and the different speeches and acts throughout the trial caused considerable merriment and applause. It was finally decided by an expert "hallucination" that an umbrella is not personal property and therefore belongs to the person in whose possession it is found. This relieves the witness but the tax collector immediately claimed the umbrella as real estate and levied unpaid taxes upon it to the amount of $2.50. The prisoner faints and confusion reigns when the court is "dissolved".

Elmer Charlie Briggs.
Elmer C. Briggs died Tuesday morning at the hospital at Jefferson City, Missouri, after an illness of several weeks with pneumonia.

Mr. Briggs enlisted in the Army at Portland, November 18, 1910, and was stationed at Fort Williams, Cape Cottage, Portland. He was a private in Co. D, N. G. S. M., before enlisting in the army.

On the 10th of March he left Portland in company with several others from the fort to take up quarters at Fort San Antonio, Texas. After leaving Buffalo he was taken ill and placed in the hospital. He was not considered dangerously ill until the last of the week when word was received, soon followed by the announcement of his death.

Mr. Briggs was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Briggs and was born in Buckfield, eighteen years ago. After the death of his parents he went to live with Mrs. Royal in the Whitcomb district in Paris, where he remained until about two years ago, when he came to Norway and worked in the shoe shop, afterward going to Paris and working in the paint shop at the Paris Mfg Co. until going to Portland.

THE NORWAY ADVERTISER

(OXFORD COUNTY, ME.)

NUMBER 13. MARCH 31, 1911, NORWAY, MAINE. VOLUME XLII.

The show entitled the "Flaming Arrow" was played at the Opera House, Monday evening, to a good sized audience. This was a military play and showed many scenes of western life, with a romantic love story interwoven. There seems to be a wide variety of opinion regarding the show. Says one young lady "It was very good, yes, it was fine. It was entirely different from what we usually see and was more what one reads about but seldom sees." It was just as it was advertised to be. One thing I liked was they brought all their scenery and it was great."

The opinion of several more matured gentlemen was "That show was bum, it was the roughest I've seen for many a year." While the opinion of several others was that it was a fair play, nothing extra but a good western play.

F. B. Andrews.
The death of F. B. Andrews, one of the oldest and best known residents of the town, occurred Saturday morning at his home on High street.

Mr. Andrews, who was 77 years old, had been ill for some time and had been confined to the house for several weeks. His illness, which was a most painful one, was borne with fortitude and resignation, and he greatly enjoyed the presence of his many friends, who often visited him. For the last few days he had been sinking rapidly and the end was only a matter of time.

He was a lawyer by profession and one of the most respected and esteemed residents of the town, having served his fellow townsmen by holding several town offices, and at the time of his death was a trustee and treasurer of Freehold Holmes Library. He was a member of the Masonic Order, G. A. R. and Grange. He leaves a widow, Mrs. S. C. Andrews, and one son, Charles M. Andrews. He is also survived by two brothers, Orrington and George, and three sisters, Mary and Hattie Andrews and Mrs. A. J. Holden.

DOING THEIR DUTY

Scores of Norway Readers Are Learning
the Duty of the Kidneys.

To filter the blood is the kidneys' duty.

When they fail to do this the kidneys are sick.

Backache and many kidney ills follow.

Urinary trouble, diabetes.

Doan's Kidney Pills cure them all.

Norway people endorse our claim.

S. C. Foster, Main St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and am able to speak highly in their favor. Several years ago my kidneys began to trouble me and learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box. It was not long after commencing their use that I felt much better. I was free from kidney trouble until recently, when a cold brought on another attack. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Stone's Drug Store and after taking a few doses, I was relieved of every symptom of the trouble. Whenever I have taken this remedy since, then, it has never failed to help me and I therefore, speak highly in its favor when an opportunity occurs."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts.

Where the Pine Trees Sing.

To A. E. K. G.

O, come with me, where the winds blow free
From the snowy hills of Maine,
And the long, dark lines of spruce, tossed places,
Are singing their sweet refrain.

We'll give a look at the ice clad rock,
And wait at the pasture bar,
To watch the lights sail up the heights,
Like the eagle flying far.

Slow we must go in the winter snow,
For we linger long in places,
Dear spots we've found, but we hear no sound,
And the song is in the echoes and rings,
And kindle's Memory's fire.

Pho the fagots high, for the night draws nigh;
But wait in the far away places,
Just outside the window to-night,
Over the city's hum, soft voices come,
They're calling me once and again.

Good friend, let us fare through the winter air,
To the welcoming heart in Maine,
ELMER M. DAVEPORT.

The 50th Wedding.

The following is a poem written by Ellen Millett Davenport and read at the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Paria Paige.

1860-1910.

How many remember the day
That year in the glowing light,
When a team drove over from Bismectown,
To the neighbors up and down.

Looked out to see who came so fast;
And each the other a question asked.
"The girls are going to be married," they say,
"The miller's girl is to marry today."

That dashing young dandy, Paria Paige,
Was the first of his kind in the place,
"Where'll they live and what'll they do?"
"What kind of clothes did the bride have?"

The very same questions asked today
When a bride and groom came our way.
The years have passed on like a day,
Till fifty Thanksgiving have passed away.

And many a lesson these lives have taught,
And many a blessing their hands have wrought.
Stranger and friend, and wedding guest
Could tell of the helping hand they found
When sorrows shadow fell around.

And many were the years that were never told,
Remember kind acts that were never told,
And the joy that shines in their hearts today;
Has changed from their eyes to the light of day.

We need no thanks beneath the sun
In consciousness of work well done.
One is in a quiet, calm,
War's loud alarm was heard by all,
And the mother gave with heart, head,
And with a helping hand alone was left;
Patient she toiled with many a care,
But her who hears and answers prayer,
Remembered all her grief and pain,
And brought her loved one home again.

All honor to the soldier brave
Whom God has saved from war fields grave!
But there have mothers need of praise
Who feed home battles in those days,
For each and sacrifice is blest.

By him who gives each torn heart rest.
His children came, and side by side
They grew, their parents' joy and pride,
And little feet ran in and out
And filled the home with love and shout.

One day an angel came and whispered low,
"Give me these two, without them I'll not go."
And the mother gave her heart and soul,
That for so little while had brought her joy;
And yet once more the angel came and said:
"Give me the father, give him to me today."
And with sad hearts and many tears,
The sun went down on her blossoming years.

Those many years have come and fled,
Griefs have grown calm for those mourned
And dead.
And peace has fallen, like a dream
Of Heaven's fair visions, it would seem,
And all these fifty vanished years,
With all their hopes and sorrows and tears,
Have gathered in a circle bright,
And shown the glory and the light.
That comes from deeds of faithfulness,
Returning, Heaven sent, to bless.
Not blessed alone, but each face
Sung finger in this hallowed place,
And may Life's twilight gently fall
Upon your good words and all.

The aged father who remains your care,
Whose comfort is your daily prayer
The child so apart to you so dear,
Five living generations here,
But sweeter far than these to these
That voice from Heaven, "Unto me
These many duties have been done."
Bright started the crowns that you have won,
Gladden Life's pathway where you go;
And may the setting sun's last rays
Shine bright upon your resting place.

BUCKFIELD.

Mrs. Betsey J. Hersey.

The funeral services of Mrs. Betsey
J. Hersey, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. B. E. Gerrieh, with whom she resided, were held here, Rev. Mr.
Miller, a former pastor of Sumner, officiating. Mrs. Hersey was the wife of the late Henry B. Hersey, formerly one of the most prominent citizens of Sumner, in which town she was born 72 years ago. Her home continued in Sumner during her married life, but after the death of her husband she left the old homes and came to Buckfield to be with her children.

Mrs. Hersey is survived by one son and three daughters, viz: George H., Lon J., wife of P. L. Warren, Fannie A., wife of B. E. Gerrieh of Buckfield, and Alice A., wife of Fred A. Taylor of Boston.

The High school closed last week for a vacation of three weeks.

Capt. C. H. Prince, on account of his ill health, has moved his office work to his residence.

The valuable board saw in the lumber mill of Morrill & Glazier, was brought in contact with a dog-hook and run, in consequence of which the business of the firm was interrupted several days and until a new saw could be provided.

The Superintendency Union, composed of the towns of Buckfield, Hartford and Sumner, which has been in operation nearly three years, will soon be terminated through the failure of Sumner to make appropriations for its continuance.

The school committee of Buckfield are in correspondence with the officials of other towns with view to the formation of a new union district.

Henry Stortevant of Hebron is visiting his brother, M. Stortevant.

B. S. Record recently lost a horse. It was twenty-four years old, he had it since a colt.

Ed Dudley and sister, Dora of Paris were here to attend the funeral of Mrs.
Martha Swallow.

Mrs. A. S. Betsey is spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. C. A. Bonney at East Sumner.

Lizzie Bonney, who has been visiting in this place, has returned to her work at North Paris.

The remains of Mrs. Martha Swallow of Sherbrooke, P. Q., were brought here for burial. Her childhood and younger days were passed in this place where she had many friends. Besides a brother she leaves two sons and thirteen grandchildren. The funeral was held at the home of the late S. D. Swallow, attended by Rev. J. H. Little of Bethel. The floral offerings were many and beautiful.

BRYANT POND.

George McKenney is making maple syrup on the G. A. Whitman farm.

This community was saddened to hear of the death of Mrs. Frank R. Andrews, which occurred at her home in South Woodstock, Saturday evening.

She had hosts of friends in this town and everywhere that she was known, and was held in the highest esteem.

In the death of George R. Stevens, Woodstock loses one of its most respected and prominent citizens.

Mr. Stevens has been a resident of the town for many years. He has been prominent in town affairs, serving three years on the board of selectmen, and two years as its chairman. He has also served as road commissioner. He was a member of Franklin Grange; also of Fraternal Lodge, K. of P. He was a prosperous and successful farmer, and a citizen that this town could ill afford to lose.

The spring term of the Woodstock High school opens April 3d, and it is hoped there will be a good number of students in attendance. We have a High school of which we may well be proud and the work that is being done here will compare favorably with that of any High school in the state. It has been approved and classified as a class "A" High school, and with two efficient teachers, with a good equipment of chemical and physical apparatus, and last but not least, situated in a town which is free for all, there is no reason why our High school should not rank with the best. Bryant Pond is centrally located, and it would seem as if there would be a large number of students in Greenwood and Milton, besides those in our own town, that could attend High school here cheaper than they could go to other schools. We feel very sure that students from away would be warmly welcomed here and would never be sorry they came.

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, the messenger of Death has again entered our lodge and taken Sister Dora M. Allister suddenly from our midst. Sister Dora was a charter member of Crystal Lake Lodge and Noble Grand at the time of her death. We shall meet her no more in our lodge room, but hope to meet her in some other place, where no farewells are ever spoken.

RESOLVED, That in memory of our departed Sister we mourn the loss of one who in every way was worthy of our respect and regard.

RESOLVED, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the relatives and friends in their bereavement.

RESOLVED, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family and one sent to the Norway Advertiser for publication and our Charter be draped in mourning thirty days.

ISABEL S. BROOKS, Committee on Resolutions.

Foster's Clothing Opening

SATURDAY, APRIL 1ST

And now we are Ready to Present to Norway our new, up-to-date Clothes Shop

For weeks workmen have been busy preparing the store, which has been entirely rebuilt. New steel ceiling and walls, new floors, new shelving have been put in place. We have installed new full length show cases, desks, cash register and many other improvements. Most of our merchandise is in place. All bought with the idea of quality. And by quality we have in mind service at a reasonable price. You'll find here only the latest and best styles. All of our former stock went in our recent sale and every thing now in our store is new. Think what that means; you can't buy anything out of style here, because we hav'nt it. The improvements have given us unusual capacity to serve you in our new home. And we shall expect a much larger patronage, because we believe, we know, we shall deserve it.

SWIFT'S ANIMAL FERTILIZERS

Active all the time

The Most Efficient Crop Producers

are those fertilizers which supply plant food in an available form when needed. Swift's Animal Fertilizers are made from animal products—Bone, Meat and Blood—combined with High Grade Potash. They do more than supply fertility—they build up soils for future years.

Biggest Crop He Ever Raised.

I planted five acres of corn this season, having bought your fertilizers through your agent in my town. I used 40 lbs. of Swift's Special Fertilizer to the acre, and notwithstanding the season was very dry, I harvested the biggest crop I ever raised. It was immensely thick and well cared, giving me 600 bushels of corn.

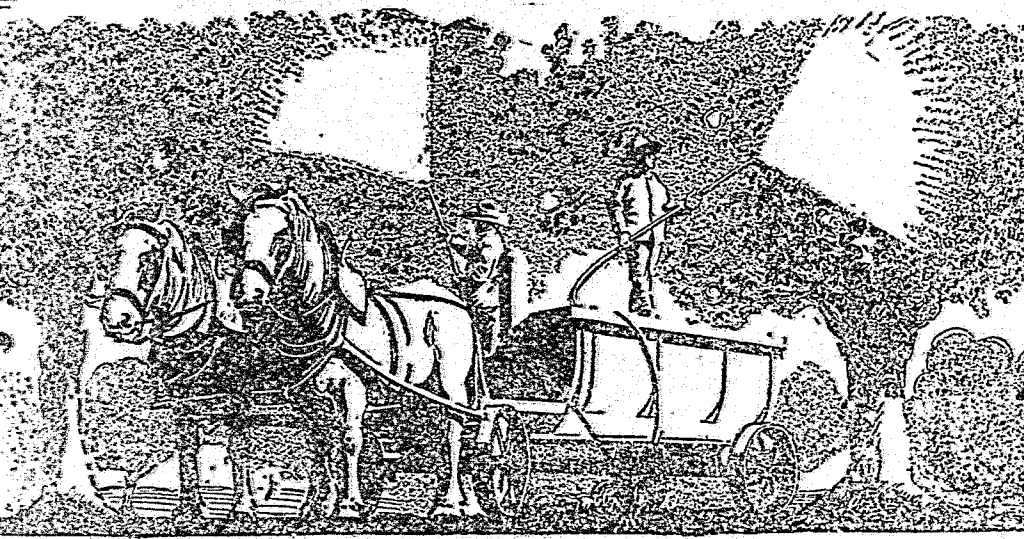

The Grange Prefers Swift's.

At the Grange Meeting last Saturday evening the subject of fertilizers was discussed, and it was voted that Swift's goods had the best. All the farmers present had used Swift's fertilizers and they all agreed that they were the best. They will take the lead here in the future if the standard of the goods is kept as good as now.

They are adapted to all soils and all crops—for use with or without manure. In your own interests, look into this fertilizer question now—while you have the time. If you don't know who our local agent is, write us. Our free Pocket Handbook gives valuable crop information.

We have some good territory open for responsible agents.

Swift's Lowell Fertilizer Co., 40 N. Market St., Boston, Mass.

Save Your Fruit From Damage.

THE widespread increase of the codling moth and other insects injurious to fruit trees causes an annual loss to growers of seven million dollars a year. The surest way for you to prevent your fruit from being wormy or badly damaged is to carry out a regular plan of spraying with some reliable material.

SHERWIN-WILLIAMS NEW PROCESS ARSENATE OF LEAD

is a general insecticide for all leaf-eating insects. It is superior to many other brands on the market, because it contains the arsenic in exactly the right proportion and the proper chemical combination, thus insuring a material that will not injure or scorch the foliage but is sure death to insects feeding on the leaves. It is extremely miscible in water and will combine readily with Lime-Sulfur and Bordeaux Mixture. Light in gravity, it remains well in suspension so that a uniformly poisonous spray can be thrown from the finest nozzle. For prices and further information on this product, come in and see us.

The Doctor's Question.
Much Sickness Due to Bowel Disorders.
A doctor's first question when consulted by a patient is, "Are your bowels regular?" He knows that 85 per cent. of illness is attended with inactive bowels and torpid liver, and that this condition must be removed gently and thoroughly before health can be restored.

Relax Orderlies are a positive, pleasant and safe remedy for constipation and bowel disorders in general. We are so certain of their great curative value that we promise to return the purchaser's money in every case when they fail to produce entire satisfaction.

Relax Orderlies are eaten like candy, they act quickly, and have a soothing, strengthening, healing influence on the entire intestinal tract. They do not purge, gripe, cause nausea, flatulence, excessive looseness, diarrhoea or other annoying effect. They are especially good for children, weak persons or old folks. Two sizes, 25c. and 10c. Sold only at our store—The Rexall Store, F. P. Stone, Main street, Norway.

NORTH LOVELL.

Mrs. Lewis E. McAllister.
It was with deep sorrow that the people of this locality heard the sad tidings that Dora E., wife of Lewis McAllister, 133, was taken sick with the grippe, Friday, and grew rapidly worse, cerebral spinal meningitis developing. She soon lost consciousness and lay in a stupor until she died.

She was a devoted wife and mother and was always doing deeds of kindness for her many friends. Her health has been poor for several years but she never complained even when suffering severely and when asked how she was feeling would always answer cheerfully, "Oh, nicely thank you."

She leaves a husband, a father-in-law, four children, two brothers, three sisters and a host of relatives and friends to miss her.
Her parents were Ezekiel and Ruth (Bonney) Poland of Peru. She was the youngest of a large family.

She was Noble Grand of Crystal Valley lodge of Rebekahs and a member of Kezar Lake grange and did all she could to help both lodges.
Rev. J. W. Card of Center Lovell was the officiating clergyman, speaking consolingly to the mourners. The choir of the Christian church, Center Lovell, sang beautiful hymns. The burial rites of both orders were performed. The undertaker was G. H. Brown of Lovell.

The floral tributes were many and very beautiful giving silent witness of the love and respect of the many friends of the dear departed, and were:
Floral wreath—Husband and father.
35 white lilies—"Mother"—Children.
Pinks—Brother and sister.
White carnations—Brother and sister.
Colored phlox—Dr. H. Andrews and family.
Cut flowers—Mrs. and Mrs. Perley McKee.
Wreath—Rebekahs and Grange.

Interment in Pine Grove cemetery at North Lovell.

The Cause of Colds and a Safe Cure.

A common cause of many colds is the sudden checking of the unconscious perspiration by exposure to a change of temperature. Colds, whether taking the form of Coryza with sneezing, running nose, and perhaps sore throat, or with chilly and feverish symptoms, should never be neglected in the earliest stages, serious illness often results from such neglect.

It is well to get early to bed, to get the body well warmed, and most important to have the bowels more freely. There is no safer or better remedy to use at the beginning of a cold than "L. F." Atwood's medicine. Two to four teaspoonfuls will quickly relieve congested conditions, drive out impurities from the system and ward off further trouble. Always keep a bottle in the house. Any dealer will supply you for thirty-five cents. If you have never used them, write today for a free sample to the L. F. Medicine Co., Portland, Maine.

Light Cake

—bread that makes eating a pleasure—pastry that "flakes"—depend on the flour that goes into them. Wise cooks use William Tell Flour and never have a baking failure. It is economical, too—makes more bread to the sack than most flours. A sack in your pantry takes care of every baking need.
